

LIHEAP Action Day: By the Numbers

Survey Comments Sample...

The virtual meetings allowed more on time meetings with staffer, but the personal meeting are always preferred and maybe in the future when things improve to do so. The congressional staffers were very open to listening, taking notes to convey to the representative our needs. Worked very well.

Once I learned how to navigate on this was easy. Very helpful to have one location with all the information at our fingertips.

Many of our team had difficulty accessing all the information within the links on the site. It was great to see all of the information that was located within the app/site and those unable to access it missed out on a lot of helpful information. We typically have leave behind when we visit in person.

None of the usual leave behind material was provided to the congressional members. Guidance on maybe sharing a screen to go over state statistics, may have been helpful. We will be sending information along with our thank you emails.
